

KEY MATERIAL ISSUES AND OUR STAKEHOLDER UNIVERSE

KEY MATERIAL ISSUES

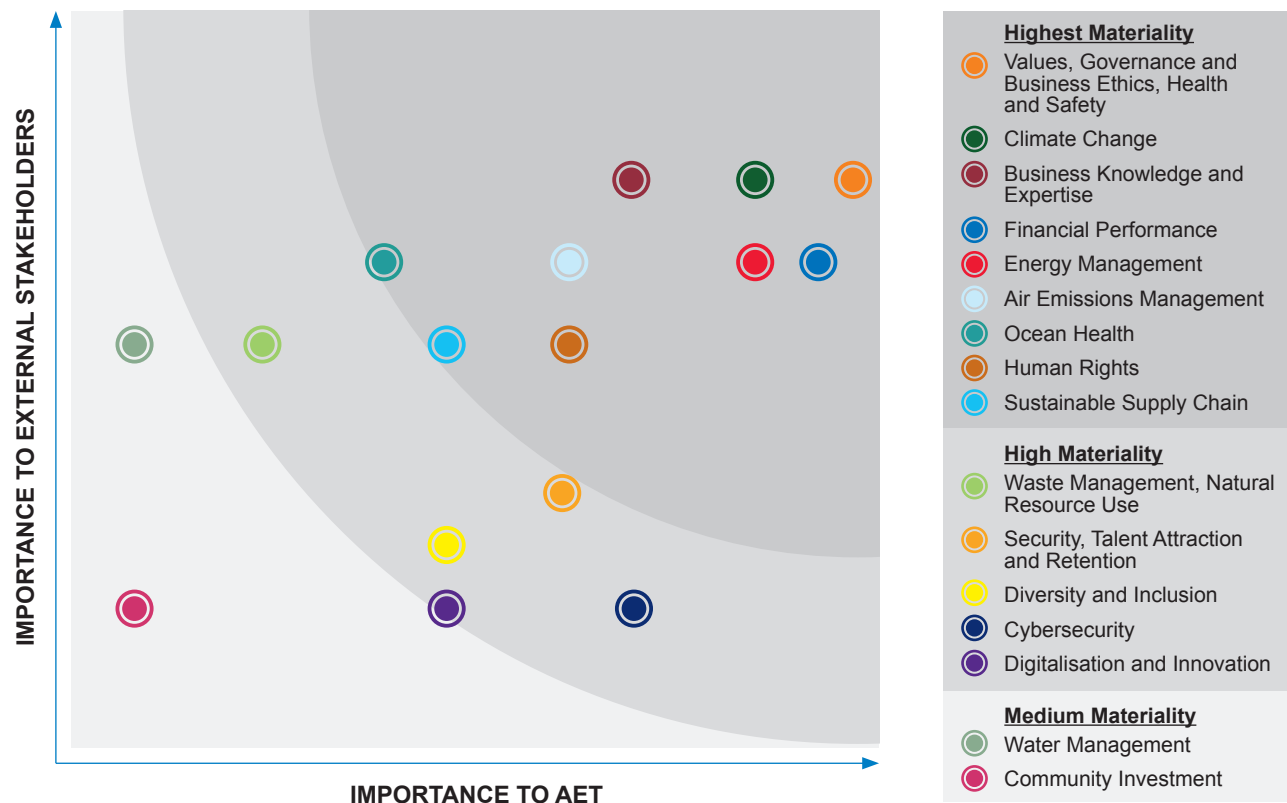

We develop our sustainability agenda to address concerns that matter most to both our internal and external stakeholders. Hence, obtaining feedback on matters deemed material to our key stakeholders and responding to this feedback is a central element of our sustainability management approach as part of our Stakeholder Engagement Pillar.

In 2022, we conducted a materiality assessment involving our key stakeholders to evaluate the sustainability matters that are most material for AET. The assessment was conducted in three stages: benchmarking, stakeholder engagement and the creation of a materiality matrix.

MATERIALITY MATRIX

OUR STAKEHOLDER UNIVERSE

AET is dedicated to creating a positive impact on the global maritime and energy sectors. Under our strategic stakeholder engagement pillar, we prioritise value creation through close engagement, awareness promotion and the fostering and facilitating of industry dialogues and collaboration.

Who Are Our Stakeholders?

We determine our most pertinent stakeholders by considering their unique characteristics and level of involvement with the organisation. The relevant stakeholders are organisations or individuals that are directly or indirectly impacted by AET's operations and activities or have the potential to impact AET.

OUR PRINCIPLES OF ENGAGEMENT

As part of our value generation process, a stakeholder-inclusive strategy and a structured stakeholder engagement methodology have been established. Every stage of our value generation process incorporates stakeholders' participation.
